SENSORY FRIENDLY DANCE

PRESENTS

RON CUNNINGHAM'S

PETER RABBIT

SATURDAY, AUGUST 13, 2022

2-3PM

THE SOFIA, HOME OF B STREET THEATRE

DEAR AUDIENCE,

Sensory Friendly Dance welcomes you to Ron Cunningham's Peter Rabbit! On the 120th publishing anniversary of Beatrix Potter's famous The Tale of Peter Rabbit, we are excited to share this delightful ballet with you. Traditional theater rules are relaxed and you are welcome to talk, sing, dance, or play during today's performance. The lights will be dimmed and we will lower the sound levels for your comfort. If at any point you would like to exit the theater during the performance, you can visit our Calming Corner just outside the auditorium where you can play with toys, color, or just sit & relax. After the show, the dancers will be available to answer questions and interact with audience members. Thank you for joining us today!

THE STORY

The Rabbit family wakes up at home on a beautiful morning. Mrs. Rabbit tells Flopsy, Mopsy, Cottontail, and Peter Rabbit to go pick berries in the forest, but to not go into Mr. McGregor's garden, nor eat any of his carrots. As the children pick berries, Peter adventures off on his own and stumbles upon Mr. McGregor's garden full of his favorite food, carrots! When Mr. McGregor finds Peter eating carrots out of his garden, he chases Peter all the way back home, through a storm, while meeting a trio of crows and a scarecrow along the way. When Peter finally returns home he feels sick from the storm and from eating too many carrots. Mrs. Rabbit admonishes Peter for his mischievous behavior and tucks the children in for the night.
